

EXECUTIVE MONEY

Hello Everyone!

Thank you for purchasing this eBook! I'm sure you will be extremely happy about your purchase, as you should have NO problem making your money back in just one day. I myself have purchased nearly every eBook out there on HF, and I get extremely frustrated by how much work they take for such little payout.

WHAT YOU NEED

- eBay account
- PayPal account (could possibly do it without, just much easier to have one)
- Account on these two sites: ioffer.com & eforchina.com

(IMPORTANT: IF YOU HAVE AN EBAY ACCOUNT ALREADY WITH SOME DECENT REP, GREAT, USE IT. I DID NOT HOWEVER AND THE FIRST 2-3 SALES CAN BE DIFFICULT. THERE ARE FEEDBACK EXCHANGES ON HACKFORUMS WHERE YOU CAN TRADE FEEDBACK HOWEVER MANY TIMES YOU WANT TO LOOK MORE TRUSTWORTHY. I HAD NO PROBLEMS MYSELF BECAUSE I JUST SAID IN MY ITEM DESCRIPTIONS THAT I ALWAYS USED MY PARENTS ACCOUNT AND THAT I JUST MADE MY OWN EBAY ACCOUNT.)

IOFFER.COM

Basically what we are going to be doing is buying some items off this website and selling them on eBay. A popular thing a lot of people are doing is selling the fake Beats by Dre from this site and selling them on eBay. This method works, but only for so long. eBay is now littered with 95% fake Beats and buyers aren't stupid. Your luck eventually runs out and you'll get someone who sees their fake and opens a scam report and gets their money back. Also, buyers will see that on your account and won't buy from you. This method is 100% safe and legitimate, so you have nothing to hide in your ads.

The item(s) we are going to look at today are some workout items. The best ones I have used so far are:

- Shaun T's FOCUS T25 + Resistance Band (Complete Set)
- P90x DVD Sets and equipment

(There are lots of other items you can sell on here, please explore and do what you like)

Search for these items on ioffer.com and basically pick a few. I know for Shaun T's workout set they sell for $20-$30 on ioffer.com, but go for well over $100 on eBay. It will vary based every sale. Sellers on ioffer.com are trustworthy and it isn't like eBay. If you want to feel extra safe, most items have a review section where people have put what they thought about the item. For this particular instance, avoid any items where people say they had shipping problems because that could mess things up. I haven't experienced this myself, but it is a rare possibility.

Look around and you'll probably be overwhelmed with the numerous pages you'll come across. Pick a few and contact the seller. Tell them that you're not at your current PayPal address and you need it shipped to your dorm at college or something. To be honest, these sellers are the most Chinese people that exist, so communicating can be difficult. Some sellers will instantly see "ship different address" and say "sorry paypal address only." Move on and find someone that will ship to a specific address, there are plenty I promise. I actually found a couple American sellers which is great because that means fast shipping.

Now that you've found a few options that you can depend on, head on over to eBay. Depending on what workout item you chose, they sell for different amounts. Look at the normal prices and start bidding at about half of that (if you see they are going for $80-$85 start bidding at $50, that way you get lots of watchers, the price will go up as time runs out). I normally do free shipping but if you want to sneak in a few extra dollars go ahead. I set the auction timer to 3 days because you never know how long your ioffer.com seller will have stock. Some days you'll find 7 pages of workout stuff and some days you'll find a half a page.

Once the auction runs out and you get paid, head on over to ioffer.com and purchase the item and buy the item you picked out. Then make sure to message the seller afterwards right away telling them the address to mail it to (the address of your eBay buyer). Then you're done! If you want you can have the item shipped to you first and then ship it to your eBay buyer, but that's just a shipping cost you could avoid. If you see the shipping will take quite a while, it doesn't hurt to message your eBay buyer and tell them shipping could take 15-25 days in the most extreme case just so they don't worry.

EFORCHINA.COM

This method is pretty similar to the last one, just cheaper items but much more massive sales. This site requires an account to see some of their best items. Now this site actually has tons of stuff that are profitable. I'm just going to show you one for an easy example, but please find 10-15 that you see are profitable and use them. People make a LIVING off of this type of thing.

Once you're all signed up you can search on the site and find various cables such as:

3.5mm Gold Plated Elbow to Straight jack Earphone Cable for Monster Beats by Dr. Dre

You can make an ad on eBay just like before but increase your stock to whatever number you'd like so you're not wasting your time continuously putting up ads over and over. Now things like these go for around $2 on eForChina.com, but sell on eBay for around $12. Only $10 profit, but you can sell these like candy. There are hundreds of items like these on eForChina.com that you can make $10-$30 profit on. Yeah, it is a lot smaller, but you can sell massive amounts of them. This site also has several other items that you could make larger profits on, I just haven't messed with them myself (could be a potential update once I look into it more).

Anyways, follow the same technique as before with ioffer.com. Once an eBay buyer buys something you're selling, do the "Checkout with specific address" on eForChina.com and put in the buyer's address.

Some other items you can put up on eBay to make $10-$20 on, but sell lots and lots every day:

iPhone cables and accessories (iPhone 5 cables work really well), other phone accessories, GPS accessories, and a lot of other small electronic items

CONCLUSION

Sometimes you'll get messages from people asking if your items are legitimate or fake, I normally just ignore them. You can respond and say yes if you want, but your items are going to sell anyways so I just don't waste my time. It depends on the items you're selling. If it isn't a Chinese knock-off, feel free to tell them it isn't.

Thanks for purchasing this eBook everyone. These two methods have limitless potential, and the more items you put up the more you'll sell. I go weeks of eBay'ing real hard, and then take a few weeks off. When you start posting heavily you can make an easy $300+ a day. There WILL be future free updates for this eBook coming soon, as I find more and more backdoor sites with items to sell every day. Do me a favor and post in the thread with your earnings to keep it going as it boosts my sales. Do NOT leak this method to anyone or a scam report method will be opened and you will be denied any updates to this eBook. Plus, you'd make me really sad. This method cannot be saturated no matter what and it is only rising. The market is huge, and so is the potential. Enjoy everyone!
